LEAGUE TAKES STAND ON MEASURE H

The League of Women Voters is recommending a “no” vote on Measure H, an initiative that would eliminate a key piece of the long-planned Prado Road extension in San Luis Obispo.

“We are always neutral when it comes to endorsing candidates, but we do take action on issues that we have studied and have taken a position on,” said Emily Penfield, president of the League of Women Voters of San Luis Obispo County.

Measure H is just such an issue.

Penfield said the League’s position on local planning and land use policies and actions is consistent with the City of San Luis Obispo’s long-range General Plan, and the Prado Road extension conforms with that plan.

In addition, she said, “We find the project is especially respectful of human safety, quality-of-life, environmental and aesthetic interests.”

Consequently, the local League urges a “no” vote on Measure H.
